

---

PARTICIPANT: Kyle Moore

3 V's Analysis for September

Visual: Clean cut and relaxed appearance. Expressive eyebrows- appropriate. Good steady head position, you use your shoulders to help express yourself in an emotional point- good job. You look off to the side to gather information. Controlled and intentional movements with hands. Excellent visual presentation Kyle!

Vocal: Tone is appropriate for the content you are speaking. Sometimes you go into a semi-whisper, but it is effective when the content calls for it. Intonation is good and varied. Your voice is engaging and inspirations. I would recommend that you work on purposely pausing to cause a deliberate silence for your audience to process.

Verbal: Charismatic and authentic choice of words. Your communication is structured well and has a good mix of concrete and conceptual ideas. "Hey there Angie" indicates you are comfortable and relaxed with the audience. I am so proud that you have significantly reduced your um's! Powerful use and explanation of the scriptures. You are a wonderful story-like communicator. Excellent choice of words that cause people to visualize what you are saying!!!!!!!!!!